Methodist Bible School In Pahokee

Daily Vacation Bible School at the First Methodist Church, Pahokee, will be held the week of August 26-30, with sessions each morning from 9 to 11 o'clock. Children between the ages of 4 and 12 (inclusive) are eligible to attend.

Those on the staff of the Bible School include Mrs. Richard Nason and Mrs. Peter Newton, kindergarten; Mrs. Frank Rosenberg and Mrs. John Zimmerman, and Mrs. Don Cook, primary; Mrs. R. D. Apelgren, Mrs. Wilbur Maxwell and Mrs. William Casto, juniors; Mrs. H. H. Hendrix, refreshments, and Mrs. R. F. Hurt, transportation.

The final programs will be presented in the classrooms, Friday morning.

Memorial Gifts Aid Cancer Drive

How "memorial gifts" are being contributed by thousands of Floridians, in the names of deceased friends or relatives, to strengthen and support the cancer control programs which are conducted year-round by the Florida Division of the American Cancer Society, is outlined in a report issued this week by the Society's Division of Life in Tampa.

The report points out that memorial contributions can be made direct to the local County Unit of the American Cancer Society or to the Division office, 416 Tampa Street, Tampa 2, Florida. The donor's gift is acknowledged and a receipt issued for tax deduction purposes. The receipt provides assurance that the monies will be become a part of the Crusade Against Cancer Fund. This fund is administered by the American Cancer Society to meet the needs of cancer control programs — for public and professional educational purposes, cancer research projects and special services for unfortunate patients suffering from the disease.

An appropriate "Memorial Roll Card" is then made out in the name of the deceased and sent to the immediate family, without mention of the amount contributed.

Persons who make contributions by checks (made out to the American Cancer Society) or cash, should provide an accompanying letter with information as follows: (1) The amount of contribution (2) Full name of deceased (with last location, city, county, state) (3) Name, address, city, state of deceased relative to whom Memorial Card should be sent. (4) Donor's name, address, city, state to whom acknowledgment receipt is to be sent.

A spokesman for the Society said that the trend for establishing a Cancer Memorial Roll Fund started some years ago among friends and relatives of bereaved families. It was their thought that the giving of tangible gifts would provide a sincere token of respect and at the same time help support the fight against cancer, the devastating disease which is taking the lives of mounting thousands of men, women and children each year.

THE FARM FRONT

BY DOYLE CONNER
COMMISSIONER
FLORIDA DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

The other day a magazine headline caught my eye: "Painless Gardening."

It called attention to four safety rules for home gardeners issued by the American Medical Association. Here they are:

(1) Take it easy for the first few weeks in the garden. Give your muscles a chance to get used to yard work.

(2) Follow directions carefully when using insecticides and weed killers — and keep the chemicals away from children.

(3) Work cautiously with power mowers and similar sharp tools.

(4) If you're allergic to bee, wasp or spider stings, ask your doctor about desensitizing injections now available.

All of those rules are good. But they overlooked the safest and most painless idea of all:

Hire a yardman, let him do the work, then sit back and relax.

You probably recall reading about the unfortunate incident earlier this year when a Mississippi farmer lost 185 head of Hereford cattle after he had sprayed them for flies.

It developed that his farm manager had hurriedly washed out an "empty barrel" in preparation for the fly spray mix. However, the barrel LAST YEAR had contained a highly toxic chemical, methyl parathion.

The cattle died with 1½ hours after the spray was administered, and the manager was hospitalized. You can see why it is so important to destroy any container of dangerously poisonous chemicals. Even a minute amount of the stuff can do serious damage. Be sure proper precautions are not neglected.

Quite a number of reports, bulletins, publications and communications of various sorts come to my office every week. They cover a wide range of topics from economics to trends in modern living. Not all, by any means, are confined to agriculture.

I've noted recently that, on the whole, the discussions concerning the overall national business outlook have been increasingly optimistic. Auto output and sales are booming, consumers are in a spending mood and savings are at a record high, corporation profits have been increasing and the stock market has recovered most of its drastic loss in last year's severe slump.

There's a lot of cheerfulness around — if you look for it.

So, imagine the jolt I got when I saw a letter from one firm that offers an "economic research service" in weekly bulletin form, with big scarehead wording printed in red.

"We believe the coming year will be one of the worst in history."

Other comments: "We have never been as bearish . . . we believe the stock market is going much lower . . . we are facing the worst depression in our history . . ."

a serious commercial crisis is coming . . ."

I showed it to a friend. His comment: "Imagine paying for reports like THAT. Why, man, you'd feel so low every week you could walk under a radiator with a high silk hat on."

So, when I got home that evening, I turned on the TV. One of our Tallahassee weather forecasters always cheers me up. He assures me every evening, "The sun will rise again tomorrow . . ."

That's the sort of thing that gives a person a sense of security.

I note that some 46 million adults are planning to take to the road this summer for outing and vacation trips. That's a considerable increase over last year's estimate and another reason for the big push behind programs for development of more outdoor recreation facilities.

However, touring by auto isn't something you can do for peanuts these days. According to the American Automobile Association, a couple, no children mentioned, mind you — can take a highway vacation this year for about $31 a day.

That estimate is based on travel of about 300 miles a day and includes lodging, meals, tips and miscellaneous costs, and car expense. No allowance is made for toll or garage fees.

Incidentally, 4 million Frenchmen have been granted a fourth week of vacation this year. That's expected to add 2 million to 3 million people to the number of French tourists seeking fun and relaxation. August is the traditional French vacation month. Americans are advised to travel to nail down reservations there.

Carpenters Off To Europe Yesterday

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Carpenter of Pahokee sailed August 22 from New York aboard the S. S. Queen Mary for a six weeks trip to Europe.

They planned to visit cities in England, Holland, Belgium, Luxembourg, Germany, Austria, Italy, Monaco, France, Switzerland, Spain and Portugal. They will fly home by way of Puerto Rico the first week in October.

The Carpenters spent several days in New York with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Borgmaes of South Bend, Indiana, prior to sailing for Europe.

The mighty tarpon, one of the fine game fish exhibited at Marineland of Florida, rises to the surface to gulp down air when oxygen in the water is in short supply.

Mrs. Lucille Johnson left Saturday for a motor trip to Sanford and Oviedo.

Everglades News Force On Vacation This Week

The Everglades News office was closed last Thursday in order that the entire crew might enjoy a well-earned vacation. The office will be opened for business next Wednesday, August 28.

Senator Is Named Insurance Job

TALLAHASSEE — Senator James E. (Nick) Connor of Brooksville, Chairman of the Florida Legislative Council, announced the appointment of Senator Clyde Galloway of DeFuniak Springs as Chairman of the Council's Committee on Insurance. In making the appointment Senator Connor took note of Senator Galloway's experience and training in the insurance field and also his active role during the previous biennium as a member of the committee dealing with insurance legislation.

Senator Galloway said the Insurance Body will "work actively to further perfect Florida's already outstanding insurance laws in the public interest."

Named to serve with Galloway from the Council were Senators W. C. (Cliff) Herrell of Dade County, Senate Shot, Kelly of Polk, along with Representatives R. O. Mitchell of Leon and Hal Chaires of Dixie.

Watch Out For Poisonous Plants

Floridians are now spending more time outdoors, with gardening activities, cookouts and picnics planned for the summer months.

Miss Mary Todd, county Home Demonstration agent, says many Florida plants, although lovely to look at, are harmful if eaten or chewed as small children are apt to do. With more people spending longer hours out-of-doors the problems of skin irritations and poisonings are being increased, she warned.

A list of Florida's poisonous plants include: the yellow allamanda, castor bean, crape-jasmine, daffodil (dumbcane), hyacinth, jimsonweed, or angel trumpet; larkspur, milk-bush, pencil bush or malabar tree; common oleander, poke, pokeweed or pokeweed, or privet or ligustrum.

Also: the tung or tung nut, barbadensis or pugenut, crabeye or rosary pea, crown-of-thorns, gloriosa, climbing lily or glory lily; jessamine, larkspur, mango, euphorbia, poinsettia, primrose, tobacco and lucky nut.

Handling any part of the mango tree or fruit may result in a dermatitis similar to ivy poisoning in some individuals. Susceptible persons suffer severely around the mouth after eating fresh ripe mangoes, but cooking destroys the causal.

For further information, or a free booklet regarding poisonous plants around the home, telephone the County Extension Office at the Mounts Building.

Sewer Survey For City Of Pahokee

Pahokee City Council in regular meeting Monday night contracted with the engineering firm of Gannett, Fleming, Cordry & Carpenter Inc., of Daytona Beach for an additional one year period on a sewer survey for the city.

The action followed receipt of word from U. S. Senator Spessard L. Holland that the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency has approved an advance loan of $32,956 without interest for final planning of sewer system facilities here. The cost has been estimated tentatively at $1,095,000. Revenue bonds have been mentioned as a source of financing.

Sewers would be installed in the heavily populated downtown section and in the Negro portion of the city, with sewerage of the remaining parts of this sprawling city to be accomplished later.

Complaints have arisen over some septic tanks becoming health hazards during periods of heavy rainfall.

Fish And Seafood Bring $31 Million

Fish from Florida's oceanic fisherman supplies much of the nation's need for fine seafoods, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce said yesterday.

"No other southern state (and only two others, one east and one west) has a fish catch worth as much annually as Florida's," according to the trade body's Weekly Business Review. "The fish that did not get away from Florida's commercial fishermen last year had a total value of $31 million at the docks. Processing, icing, freezing and delivery added many more millions before the seafood reached consumers' table."

"In the weight of last year's catch, 186.7 million pounds, Florida ranked eleventh among the states. This Florida catch included 37 million pounds of Menhaden and other in-edible fish brought into Fernandina Beach for processing into oil and fertilizers."

"Hillsborough, Monroe and Lee counties were tops in the state's $18 million shrimp catch, Frankland and Levy stood first in oyster production and food fish came more from the Gulf counties than from along the Atlantic."

"Some of the value of the state's seafood can be traced directly to applied research conducted by the State Board of Conservation. Projects currently under way in the state should be even more fruitful as work progresses," the State Chamber pointed out.

A loggerhead turtle at Marineland of Florida has increased its weight 11,680 times in nine years. Weighing one-half an ounce when first hatched, it now weighs 365 pounds.

To relieve the initial shock of capture, sharks taken for exhibit at Marineland of Florida are calmed with a sedative. The drug used is sprayed over the gills, and will deliver a knockout punch to a 400 pound shark in a minute or less.

Wild Hog Added To The Game List

TALLAHASSEE—Florida hunters will receive an extra bonus in game animals during the 1963-64 hunting season. The wild hog has been classified as game animals on twelve of the state's 27 wildlife management areas. In addition to the 1,364,200 acres included in the twelve wildlife management areas, the entire county of Palm Beach will be open for wild hog hunting under regulations established by the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, according to A. D. Aldrich, director. Wild hogs have also been classified as game animals in the Myakka State Park, but will be protected by a closed season.

In areas where wild hogs are classified as game animals, the open season coincides with that for deer hunting. Hog hunting will be allowed a daily bag limit of one and a seasons bag of two, except when a specific bag is provided by management area regulations. Florida's archers will be allowed five special post season wild hog hunts on the Guano River Wildlife Management Area and may take wild hogs during the archery season on the Citrus Wildlife Management Area.

Areas open to wild hog hunting are as follows: Palm Beach County, Camp Blanding area in Clay County, Fisheating Creek area in Glades County, J. W. Corbett area in Palm Beach County, Everglades area in Palm Beach, Dade and Broward Counties, Avon Park area in Highlands and Polk Counties, Farmton area in Volusia and Brevard Counties, Richloam area in Hernando, Sumter and Pasco do and Sumter Counties, Citrus Counties, Croom area in Hernando area in Citrus County, Guano River area in St. Johns County, Aucilla area in Jefferson and Wakulla Counties, and the Gulf Hammock area in Levy County.

According to Aldrich, a recent action by the board of County Commission of Levy County, stated that no valid hog claims exist in the Gulf Hammock Wildlife Management Area. This action allowed the land owners and the Game and Fish Commission to classify the hogs within this area as game animals. Individuals who claim hogs in the area are given ninety days in which to remove their hogs. Similar action by the County Commission of Palm Beach County allowed the Game and Fish Commission to declare all wild hogs in the county as game animals.

Aldrich reminded hunters that outside of the twelve areas and Palm Beach County, the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission claims no jurisdiction over hogs of any kind, and feral or wild-roaming hogs are generally classified as private property. Hunting hogs to which there is a legitimate claim of private ownership, such as on lands where valid hog claims are in effect, is an illegal activity and subject to civil action.

Before going hog hunting on lands other than the designated areas, the hunters should always obtain the permission of the landowner. It is also helpful to verify with the County Sheriff to determine whether hog claims are in effect in the area selected for hunting, and to determine the fact of ownership.

Wants To Advertise East Of Mississippi

LAKELAND—The Florida Citrus Commission's new advertising agency wants to direct the major portion of its advertising efforts on 19 million families living east of the Mississippi River.

In a concept of advertising citrus representatives of Campbell-Ewald Advertising Agency of Detroit said advertising west of the Mississippi should be forgotten until such time as more money becomes available.

Under the program only television commercials would reach as far as the west coast. Basically the new campaign calls for a total of 218 one-minute commercials on television network shows. Magazine advertising would be done in Readers Digest, Saturday Evening Post, Ladies Home Journal and American Home on a regional basis.

Industry representatives suggested some changes, however, Walter Bonvie, Minute Maid Com-pans advertising vice president, disagreed with the spending of some $260,500 to announce the arrival of next season's new crop. Other questions were raised concerning points of the program.

"Today we need a nation of Minute Men citizens who regard the preservation of freedom as a basic purpose of their daily life"

—JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY

10 days after his inauguration as the 35th President of the United States.

Twenty years ago, in the dark, uneasy days before Pearl Harbor, the Minute Man of Concord, timeless symbol of our Nation's determination to defend its freedom, emerged as the emblem of the U. S. Savings Bonds Program. When war came, the Minute Man became the rallying force behind the huge and overwhelmingly successful effort to back our fighting men with War Bonds.

In this, the 20th anniversary year of Savings Bonds, the Minute Man of Concord calls all Americans to an unrelenting effort to help preserve our peace and freedom, threatened by forces more powerful and resourceful than those we faced in 1941. Though this effort will take many forms, one way open to all is the continued investment in Shares in America, U. S. Savings Bonds, by "citizens who regard the preservation of freedom as a basic purpose of their daily life."

MRS. THOMAS WILLIS McARTHUR

Miss Suzanne Gayle Johnson Marries Thomas W. McArthur On August 17th

Miss Suzanne Gayle Johnson became the bride of Thomas Willis McArthur in a double-ring ceremony at the Pahokee First Methodist Church on Saturday, August 17, at 4 p. m. with the pastor, Rev. John A. Briley, officiating. The couple spoke their vows before an altar decorated with baskets of white gladioli and mums, and branched candelabra against a background of palms. Family pews were marked with lily of the valley and satin streamers.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Johnson, 2143 East Main Street, Pahokee, and parents of the bride-groom are Mr. and Mrs. T. O. McArthur of 1822 Elm Road, Lakeland.

Traditional wedding selections were presented by Miss Dottie Lair, organist, and Dr. R. L. Hatton, soloist, who sang "Because," "O Promise Me," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length gown of peau de sole fashioned with fitted bodice and hand cut French lace at the sculptured neckline. Matching lace enhanced the bell shaped skirt with bustle back ending in a chapel train. Her veil of illusion was attached to a crown of lace and pearls featuring rose buds of peau de sole. Her bouquet was a cascade of white phalaenopsis orchids, lily of the valley and miniature ivy.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Roland S. Kennedy of Jacksonville, aunt of the bride, wore a sheath of jade green chiffon fashioned with cowl neckline and flowing back panel. She wore a matching headpiece with brief veil, and carried a cascade of yellow roses, mums and miniature ivy.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. Morgan

Tyson of South Bay, and Mrs. Joe Hatton, Jr. of Pahokee, wore sheaths identical to that of the matron of honor, and carried similar bouquets.

Miss Kathy Kennedy of Jacksonville, cousin of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. She wore a dress of white embroidered organdy with a sash of jade green, and carried a bouquet similar to that of the other attendants.

Jack McArthur of Lakeland served as best man for his brother, and ushers were Eddie Gandy and Royce Stewart, both of Lakeland, and Ronald S. Kennedy of Jacksonville, uncle of the bride.

Mrs. Johnson, mother of the bride, wore a dress of blue silk linen with modified bell skirt and featuring a bow in the back. She used matching accessories. Mrs. McArthur, mother of the groom, was attired in pink peau de sole fashioned with re-embroidered lace bodice, scoop neckline and cap sleeves. White orchid corsages completed the costumes of both.

Assisting at the reception in the social hall of the church were Mrs. Lewis Buckner, Mrs. Don Zaccagnino, Mrs. Charles Jernigan, Mrs. Ray Hatton, Mrs. William R. Hatton, Mrs. Wayne Carter, Mrs. John A. Briley, Mrs. L. B. Anderson of Jacksonville, and Mrs. Charles Heath of Wauchula.

The bride, a graduate of Pahokee High School, attended Brevard College in Brevard, North Carolina, and Florida Southern College at Lakeland. Her sorority is Beta Sigma Phi.

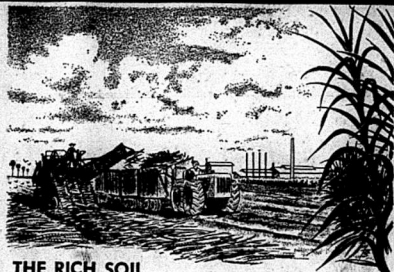

The bride-groom, a graduate of Lakeland High School, attended the University of Florida at Gainesville, and Florida Southern College. He is affiliated with Alpha Tau Omega, social fraternity.

Following a wedding trip to North Carolina, the couple will make their home in the Alumni Village at Tallahassee, where he will attend Florida State University.

Senior Citizens Service Section

TALLAHASSEE — J. Edwin Larson, State Treasurer and Insurance Commissioner, has announced the establishment of a Senior Citizens Service Section in the State Insurance Dept. The new division will be headed by Frank Alexander and will be devoted to helping Floridians senior citizens with their insurance problems.

Experienced persons in each of the 19 insurance field offices will work closely with clubs, organizations and senior citizens in supplying information and counsel on their insurance problems, Larson explained.

He said that obtaining adequate health insurance coverage is a special problem to persons in the upper-age brackets.

"There are more than 600,000 retirees living in Florida," Larson said, "and from the mail we receive it is apparent that obtaining adequate insurance protection is one of their major concerns."

"There are several companies licensed to do business in Florida, which are offering plans specifically designed to fit the needs of senior citizens," Larson stated. "The law passed in the 1963 legislature permitting any Florida licensed agent to sell health insurance for any company permitted to do business in Florida is a big step forward in supplying health insurance needs to our senior citizens," he added.

New $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest on U.S. Savings Bonds

The Treasury explains why the new ones you buy and the ones you own now are better than ever

Q: How does the new $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest rate benefit me?

A: With Series E Bonds, the rate turns $18.75 into $25.00 fourteen months faster than the old rate. Your savings increase faster, because your Bonds mature in just 7 years, 9 months.

With Series H Bonds, the 10-year maturity period stays the same but more interest is paid you each six months. With both E and H Bonds the new rate works out to $2\frac{1}{2}\%$ for the first year and a half; then a guaranteed 4% each year to maturity.

Q: When did the new rate become effective?

A: June 1, 1959.

Q: Does the new rate change the Bonds I bought before June 1, 1959?

A: All older E and H Bonds pay more now—an extra $\frac{1}{2}\%$ from now on, when held to maturity. The increase takes effect in the first full interest period after June 1.

Q: Will the Bonds I own automatically earn their new rate?

A: Yes. You don't need to do a thing—just hold on to your Bonds.

Q: When my E Bonds mature, will they keep on earning interest?

A: Yes. An automatic 10-year extension privilege went into effect along with the new interest rate. This means your E Bonds will automatically keep earning interest after maturity.

Q: With the new interest rate, should I cash in my old Bonds and buy new ones?

A: No. The automatic $\frac{1}{2}\%$ increase makes it unnecessary—and in almost every case it is to your advantage to retain your present Bonds.

Q: How are series H Bonds different from series E Bonds?

A: The chief difference is this: You buy H Bonds at full face value and the interest is paid by Treasury check every six months for the life of the Bond. You buy E Bonds at 75% of face value and the interest accumulates to maturity. H Bonds provide income for living expenses, while E Bonds build a nest egg for the future. That's why many retired people hold H Bonds and families saving for, say, a child's education, buy E Bonds.

Q: In what denominations can I buy series E and series H Bonds?

A: E Bonds: $25 (cost $18.75), $50 (cost $37.50), $100 (cost $75.00), $200 (cost $150.00), $500 (cost $375.00), $1,000 (cost $750.00), $10,000 (cost $7,500.00).

H Bonds: $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000. They are priced at face value.

Q: How safe are U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Savings Bonds are an absolutely riskless way to save. The United States Government guarantees the cash value of your Bonds will not drop, that it can only grow.

Q: What if my Bonds should be lost, stolen or destroyed?

A: You can't lose. Every Bond purchased is recorded by the Treasury. If anything happens to your Bonds they are replaced—free.

Q: Where can I buy Bonds?

A: Buy E Bonds at any bank—it takes only a few minutes. Buy them automatically through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. This Plan means you can have any amount you name automatically deducted every payday. The Bonds you buy by installments are delivered to you automatically, too. Your bank will take your order for H Bonds.

Q: How do I help strengthen America's peace power when I buy U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Peace costs money—money for military strength and for science. And money saved by individuals helps keep our economy sound.

YOU SAVE MORE THAN MONEY WITH U. S. SAVINGS BONDS

All-Time Record For State Business

TALLAHASSEE—Wendell Jarrard, chairman-director of the Florida Development Commission says the Sunshine State is headed for an all-time summer season.

He announced that an estimated 1.36 million visitors arrived in Florida in June, an increase of 3 per cent over the same month of 1962.

Rosy reports are coming in from all over the state. Miami Beach sources say tourism is up two or three per cent, due mainly to some big conventions. Delta Airlines, as well as National, reported it found tourism brisker this summer than last.

The beaches between Panama and Pensacola are popular with visitors from Southern states. St. Petersburg beach resorts claim that, while 1963 isn't a boom year, it is far from a bust this summer.

While reports are not yet complete for July, that month is traditionally the top month of the year in sheer numbers of tourists entering the state. With total visitors so far this year about six per cent higher than last, there is widespread expectation that 1963 will top the 13 million record set last year.

raway, at the same time, designated Senators Robert Williams of Graceville and Charlie E. Johns of Starke as Non-Council Committeemen to represent the Senate.

House Speaker Mallory Horne chose Representatives George H. Anderson of Monticello and John L. Ayers of Brooksville as Non-Council House Members of the interim body.

Senator Galloway said, "the insurance committee will study new proposals as well as review proposals considered but not acted on during the past biennium." He also stated that the committee would closely scrutinize the self-insurance programs of state agencies and institutions.

Council Committee activity prior to the 1963 session led to enactment of a number of major laws affecting the insurance industry, including changes in the Capital & Surplus and Deposits laws, new Senior Citizen Insurance plan designed to make procurement of accident and health insurance simpler for persons of 65 and over, and insurance premium financing.

Senator Galloway indicated that the committee will meet soon for organizational purposes and begin preliminary work which will climax with suggestions to amend present laws and proposals of new legislation by the 1965 Legislature.
